Latter Parker's Exhibition at Tammany Hall. UNRULY SPIRITS AT THE STATE PRISON .- For

ome weeks past the officers of the State Prison have been satisfied that a clandestine correspondence was being carried on between the convict George W. Niles, and some other convicts, and they have been on the watch to detect the parties. The first of last week a clue was obtained, and following it up, it was found that Niles, Ashley, Benjamin and a colored man were engaged in the sfair. The black man was a waiter in the office and house, and the others had induced him by oflers of money to assist them in obtaining information and in forwarding letters to each other .-An application of the shower bath to the black fellow brought out an exposure of the others, and similar argument on Benjamin produced from him a quantity of letters which he had received from Niles and Ashley. Ashley also yielded to the persussions of the bath, and made a full confession of his part in the matter, but Niles plumpby denied all knowledge of the transactions for which the others were punished. The officers, af. ter reasoning with him for a long time, finally ordered him to take his place in the bath, but he declared that his health was so poor that he could not stand it, and he was temporarily reprieved for the purpose of having his condition examined and reported upon by the physician of the Institation. On Saturday the physician reported that Niles was well, and that he had never teard him complain of being sick. On this re. port, Niles was brought up to the bath room, and snother effort was made to induce him to confess that he had been engaged in the correspondence-He stoutly denied the charge-declared that there was no evidence against him, and called God to witness his innocence. Finding him determined to face it out, the officers ordered him to strip for the bath, and amid his solemn declara tion of his innocence and his appeals to be saved from the punishment, the water was let on .-Shutting it off, the officer again gave him a chance to confess his guilt, but he still pro toted that they were punishing for a crime of which he was not guilty. A second application of the water was made, and he was afforded another opportunity to make an ac. inowledgment, but he adhered to the story he had first told, and the third application of the Croton was made before he owned up, and promised to tell all the particulars if they would rejesse him from the bath. He was let out, and after dressing himself, made a confession of the whole affair, which fully corroborated the state. ments made by the other convicts. His adhereance to a lie, when he was assured by the officers that his letters were in their possession, showed him to be not only a knave but a fool, and brough; on him a punishment which we presume he wil

They are, both of them, restless, ill-behaved convicts, and are constantly subjecting themselves to punishments for violating the rules of the prison -By the way, we may as well give a description of the prison bathing apparatus, as it is in some points essentially different from those in general use. The person who is to undergo the operation is seated, and his legs, arms and head are firmly fastened with wooden clasps, so that he cannot get away from the water nor use his hands to break its force. The water falls about six feet and at the rate of about a barrel a minute, through apiece of iron pierced with quarter-inch holes. The officer inflicting the punishment lets on and thuts off the water by means of a cord attached to avalve. Since the lash was abolished, this mode of punishment has been found very efficacious.

long remember. Previous to his being subjected to the shower bath his head had been shaved and an iron collar had been fitted to his neck. These collars are made of three-quarter iron, with a mong about five inches projecting upon each side of the face, and one at the back of the head.

Ashley has a similar ornament, and the two make

AN EMIGRANT SHIP .- The packet-ship Washbgton, Capt. Page, from Liverpool, arrived at his port yesterday after a somewhat boisterous passage of 36 days, during which she lost ber bain top-mast and fore and mizzen top-gallant masts with sails attached. She brings 5 cabin and 956 steerage passengers, making a grand total, including officers and crew, of 1,010 souls, al h good health, not one of them having been lose during the passage. This is, perhaps, the great tet number of human beings ever conveyed across the Atlantic to this or any other port in a single ressel. Capt. Page has brought over to this country, in four consecutive voyages, the enormous number of 3,500 emigrants.

A member of the congregation of St Thomas's Church writes to us that the Reformed Dutch Church has been kindly tendered to them, and that the service is performed there in the afternoons, instead of in an unoccupied church, as was formerly stated.

THE SHIP INFANTA.—The steam tug Sampson came up to the City on Saturday afternoon from the British ship Infants, ashore 25 miles west of Montauk, and brought with her all the steerage passengers, 250 in number. Capt. Marshall of the Sampson reports that the ship lies head on the beach, with 17 feet of water under her stern, and supposed she might be got off by discharging her cargo, as she remains perfectly tight. The underwriters' schooner was engaged in running off her anchors when he left.

BLAKE'S PATENT FIREPROOF PAINT .- We be lieve it is now about seven years since Mr. Blake discovered this singular substance between a strata of rocks in Ohio. Nearly three years elapsed before Mr. B. discovered its real value since which time it has been steadily growing into public favor, and we believe there is now but one opinion of it where it has been properly applied. The action of the weather upon this paint after it is applied is just the reverse of what it is upon ordinary paints. Upon the former it turns it to stone; upon the latter it destroys the oil with which it is applied; and as it depends entirely upon the oil for its adhesion, therefore, as soon as that is gone, it turns back to powder, and will wash or rub off. We have seen a statement of more than twenty of the first men in Sharon, Ohio, where the paint is found, saying that they had examined a house that was painted by Mr. Blake as an experiment nearly seven years since, and it is now like a stone. They also state that there are many dishonest and irresponsible persons grinding up all kinds of worthless stuff and sending it through the country and selling it for the genuine Ohio Fireproof Paint. They say they have seen buildings that have been painted with it and it proved to be entirely worthless, and state that Blake's Patent Fireproof Paint is the only Fireproof Paint to be considered worth using. A valuable article always has its counterfeits, and this is the case to a very great extent with this Paint, if we can judge of the almost daily reports of the discovery of some new Fireproof Paint. Some, in fact many, who find beds of rotten stone on the farm pretend that they have a valuable Fireproof Paint mine, and commence grinding and sending it out (without any trial) and sell it as the genuine article. Much of it, in, powder, closely resembles the genuine; but when the atmosphere acts upon it for any length of time, the difference is observed at a glance. One thing is certain, that no one can maufacture, sell or use that that will make the genuine article without infringing Mr. Blake's patent, the which has been decided upon by a board of referees, and also by Hon. Daniel Webster, to be good and valid. We therefore would advise all who wish to get the gennice article without subjecting themselves to a prosecution to go directly to the Patentee, 84

DEATH OF DR. GRIDLEY .- We regret to announce in our obituary of this day the decease of Dr. Horatio W. Gridley, one of the House Physicians of Bellevue Hospital. He died on the 29th inst. of Typhus Fever, contracted in the discharge of his duties in the Hospital. He was a young gentleman of superior attainments, and gave abundant promise of rising to distinction in his profession. His loss is deeply felt by his family and friends, as well as by his associates in the Hospital, to whom he was greatly endeared by his amiable disposition and moral worth.

EVENINGS WITH SHERIDAN .- In consequence of the great success of this entertainment, Mr. G. Vandenhoff repeats it this week at the Society Library, commencing this evening.

THE WRECK OFF MONTAUK.-There are strong hopes that the wreck seen off Montauk Point is not that of the packet-ship Ivanboe. The ship Ivanhoe spoken by the Canada was an English vessel, and not the American packet, as reported on Saturday last.

The Hutchinsons give their first Concert in this City on Wednesday night. This time Abby does not appear, but in her stead there are three other brothers who inherit the family talent. The Programme is decidedly original.

THE WALL STREET FINANCIERS -The investigation of the charges against McK ay and Cryder, was brought to a close on Saturday. No additional testimony was taken, and the counsel for the de fence submitted the whole matter to the magis trate without summing up. The justice then reduced the bail bond to $5,000, which will be given to-day, and this, we suppose, will be the last we shall bear of the case for some time.

-By the way, the Tompkins matter was up in one of the Courts on Saturday, but what was the effect of the motion which was made we do not understand. Motions, counter-motions, complaints, answers, and demurrers have become so mixed up, that we cannot keep track of them, and alf of the time we are sadly puzzled to tell which is plaintiff and which is defendent. When the matter is decided, we shall give our readers the particulars; but we rather think " .he good time coming" will be on hand before the case is brought to a focus.

TURN ABOUT IS FAIR PLAY .-- Mayor Kingsland has been very active since the first of January in causing various nuisances to be abated. Among his other reforms he caused the boxes, bales and barrels which have so long incumbered the sidewalks in the business portion of the City to be removed, and any merchant caught using the sidewalk as a storehouse was forthwith made to pay a penalty for his violation of the City or dinances. Many were the victims of the Mayor's unrelenting adherence to the laws, and a vast improvement was manifest in the regions of the old "burnt district." There is a rumor around town that even the Mayor himself has been victimized to a large extent in this way. Not long since, while the employées of his Honor were engaged in receiving a large consignment of oilhis neighbors were taking notes and entering complaints at the Mayor's Office for violations of the City laws. The complaints were well founded-the proofs abundant-and before the wrath of Kingsland, the Mayor, could be appeared, Kingsland, the merchant, had enriched the City Treasury some three bundred dollars.

THE CIRCUS AT NIBLO'S .- The crowd at Nib lo's continues unabated, and the public has not begun to exhaust its capacity for delight in the artistic performances of the company. Mademoiselle Loyo, with her horses, Jupiter and Frisette. keeps her saddle like a lady, as she dances with her horse round the ring, preserving as true an equilibrium as if (begging her pardon) they were both one animal. The honors of the evening, however, are always shared by the boy Loisset. a miracle of grace, lightness and agility. The complete abandonment with which he trusts his body to the air, and the fire and inspiration which characterize all his attitudes and movements. elevate his performance to the dignity of pure art. Benutiful as the antique statue of the Apollino, and agile as the winged Hermes, his attitudes deserve the immortality of marble.

LECTURES ON ITALY .- Col. Forbes' first Lecture on the Recent Events in Italy will be delivered to night, in the New-York University. The present momentous condition of Italy gives a peculiar interest and value to these Lectures. There are signs of a new struggle, which promises to be of far greater magnitude than those of '48 and '9 A familiarity with the events of the first revolution is necessary to an enlightened understanding of those which are coming, and the present is a rare opportunity to acquire such familiarity.

THE HERNASN.—This steamer sailed for Bremen, via Southampton, on Saturday last. She took out 49 passengers and $38,000 in specie. -The steamer Prometheus, which sailed on Friday for Chagres, had 168 passengers.

Parker's Grand Exhibition Ball takes place to night at Tammany Hall. Tickets can be obtained at the Hall.

The corner stone of a Hospital was laid in Brooklyn on Friday last, in the presence of a large number of distinguished citizens of our pretty little sister over the river. We heard it said, not long since, that there were annually expended in the City of Brooklyn $250,000 in the support of Churches, while there was not a single Hospital in the whole City that a poor man could be taken to. We are glad to see that measures are being taken to remove this reproach.

SHIP FEVER .- Mr. Editor: The Tribune of Saturday contains a notice of the death of Dr. J. Alden, one of the Hospital Physicians at Quarantine. A friend of his met me this morning and requested me to mention the facts of his case to you. There are about 3,000 patients at the Hospitals, most of them sick with ship fever. Only aix assistant Physicians attend them, and one at least is laid up most of the time. The result this over-working is that three of the Physicians almost as great exists at the establishment.

[COMMUNICATION ] Musical .- We understand that Signora Speranza contemplates giving a grand Vocal and Instru-mental Concert shortly at the Tabernacle, at which several of the most eminent artists in this City will appear. have heard her on several occasions, and were highly deelegant soprano voices we have ever heard, and her friends have the most sanguine expectations that when her intend ed Concert comes off, she will convince the public that she is an artist of great magnitude.

ATTEMPT AT BURGLARY .- Two burglars about So'clock on Saturday morning attempted to force open the side door of the clothing store of Geo. Houghton, SS Avenue C. They ware, however, frightened away by a clerk who was sleeping in the store.

Suicide and Inquest .- An inquest was held pesterday at No. 5 Watt-st. upon the body of Mark Dorr, a native of England, 23 years of age, who committed suicide on Saturday night by taking a quantity of laudanum. The deceased, it was stated, was led to the commission of the act by depressed spirits, caused by the extreme dissipation of his wife, whom, on his return from work on Saturday night he found intoxicated. Before retring he drank the poison, and in the morning his wife found him dead by her attle. Verdict, death by suicide. ATTEMPT TO COMMIT SUICIDE .- An unknown woman was found in Whitehall-st early yeater-day morning suffering. as was supposed, from the effects of poison. Dr. DeForest was called to attend her. She persisted in declaring her intention to destroy herself, and it was deemed best to commit her to the Tombs for the SUDDEN DEATH .- About 11 o'clock a

Joseph Wagner was taken into custody at 6 o'clock vesterdsy morning, charged with attempting to take the life of Jacob Glouse, reading in Sixty-hraist, near Thirdney by shooting him in the left side. It appears that be tween I and 2 o'clock yesterday morning, the family of Mr. Clouse were awaked by a large stone being thrown with great force through a window shutter and sash in the front of their dwelling. Mr. Glouse immediately snose and wont to the room whence the noise proceeded, and while looking out of the window was shot in the left side and fell senseless on the floor. In the morning his wife proceeded to the Nineteenth Ward Station House, when she laformed the Police Captain of what had taken place, and stated that her suspictors rested on the accused, who the day previous was seen near the house with a gun in his hand, and was heard to threaten to have revenge on Mr. Glouse, for having shot his dog about a week since. An officer was then dispatched to the residence of Wagner, who was found in bed. He was taken before Justice Bleakey and locked up for examination. FARE REDUCED .- The Directors of the Long Island Railroad Company have resolved to reduce the fares upon their road on and after the first of April, to an average of about two cents per mile; also to make an important reduction in their rates of commutations, which, with the increased facilities by the addition of numerous trains to and from Brooklyn, (eight per day each way) will not only reader a residence upon Long Island more de-dirable than any place in the vicinity of New-York, but shows the determination of the present management of the Company to afford to the public the accommodation so ong withheld, which we think will be the means naking the Long Island Railroad Company what it should have been years ago, a dividend paying Corporation,

MR. GRIEBEL'S CONCERT .- The fine Concert of Mr. F. GRIEBEL, the Violinist, and the Italian Opera Company, comes off at the Female Academy, tomorrow evening. Mr. Griebel is known to the public as a nished performer on the violin, who has given great satisaction at all the Concerts where he has appeared during the past Winter. He will be well supported to-morrow wening : the Concert offers an unusual treat to the citizens

DIED IN THE STATION HOUSE .- About Il o'clock on Saturday night last, a man laboring under an aberration of the mind was taken to the First District Station House by officer O'Donnell. He gave his name as Andrew McAllear, and said his family resided in Third-st., Andrew McAllear, and said his family resided in various.

About 8 o'clock yesterday morning, the keeper of the cells, on entering, found him slitting on the floor, moaning piteously, and evidently in much pain. With the assistance of the door. man, he was then conveyed to the lodging-room, placed upon a bed, and a physician sent for. On th arrival of the physician, (Dr. Burrell,) the unfortunate man eas lying upon his back, laboring under delirium, pulseless at the wrists, his feet and hands partially cold, and looked deathly pale. The usual restoratives, in such cases, were applied, but had no effect in rallying him, and in a short applied, but had no effect in rallying him, and in a short time afterward he expired, from exhaustion. In the opin of the physician, the result might have been different had timely ald been rendered; and further, that the accummodations with which he was aurrounded were insidequate, as there was a want of the ordinary facilities to relieve a case of this kind. His disease resembled typical fever. Coroner Ball was notified, and held an inject on the body. The following is the verdict of the Jury: That Andrew McAllear came to his death from a chansion and the want of proper care, resulting from a deficiency of the necessary comforts, and that those under whose care he was placed rendered him every assistance possible under the culcumstances of the case.

James Brooks and Erastus Brooks against Magnetic Telegraph Co—Sult for damages by Editors NewYork Express for non-delivery of a communication transmitted by Telegraph. The complaint sets forth that an act was passed by the State of Maryland in 1846, to incorporate the company of defendant for the purpose of erecting and maintaining a line of telegraph communication between Weshington and New York and intermediate towns and cities, and under which they established a line of telegraph, and are the common carriers of communications and messages by means of said telegraphic line between said points and intermediate place for line, and for which said company were and are entitled to receive therefor certain sums of money as the stipulated price and reward for the service of conveying such intelligence, communications and messages, which said price and reward is fixed by said defendants themselves. It was part and parcel of the business and the duty of defendants, when the intelligence and commumications were received by them for transmission, to transmit the same to their destination, and then to copy the same on paper and send the same to the person or persons to whom directed, sealed, and for which the said price, as aforesaid, is to be paid.

Plaintiffs further say, that on the 18th of September, 1843, they were and previous thereto had been, the editors and publishers and proprietors of two daily newspapers in the City of New York, viz: the New York Moratog Express and the New York, viz: the New York Moratog Express and the New York, viz: the New York had received for plaintiffs, they had the plaintiff for the plaintiffs, they had received for plaintiffs, they had the plaintiff for the plaintiffs, th with telegraphic reports, and the lajury which, would accorded their between withheld. It hurts a paper not to got the latest news &c.

Mr. Moses & Beach, one of the editors and proprietors of The Sun, Mr. N. A. Stimpson, of the Day Book, and Mr. Fredk. Hudson, connected with the editorial department of the Herald, also testified as to the necessity of a paper not getting them.

Mr. Smith asked the witnesses if the same news had been published in the journals in the morning and also in the afternoon papers of that same day, and also in the Expressituation of the same afternoon, which came out at 2 o'clock—this communication being received at 5—if still, it would have value—the answers were, if the account in the morning, copied into the afternoon papers, were vague and uncertain, the dispatch in the afternoon in corroboration would be equally as valuable as if received in the morning. If they were the same words and the same authority not so valuable—and even then a paper is benefited by having its own dispatch instead of giving creditto another paper.

The testimony for plaintif having closed, Mr. Smith moved for a nonsuit on the ground that the pleadings referred to special damage, and nove had been shewn. Also that the Telegraph could not be held as common carriers.

The Court considered that the pleadings were sufficiently general. Suppose it were a matter of more contract, and the contract has been broken, the plaintif is actitled to damages, even if nominal, and the consult cannot be allowed. As to the rule of damages, it being a new and novel case, that is a question of some difficulty and the Court will hear Counsel before it submits the question to the Jury.

The line of defendant was the only Bouthern telegraph line at that time in existence.

Mr. Smith opened for the defense. He said there had been some little difficulty as to the pay for some previous communications over the line, and the young man approach be had a right to withold this communication, with a view to enforcing payment of what was du

Mr. Smith offered to show that the dispatch was in the Express the same afternoon, but it appeared not to have been a telegraphic report, but an extract under the editorial, and it being shown to witness was objected to, as he must first state what the dispatch contained, a.c. Witness had been in the office all day.

Mr. Smith gave restlinent to show that the dispatch carried by Mr. Gregory to the Express office had been handed by Mr. Norton, one for the stockholders, to him, (Mr. S.) but lost while Mr. S. was moving. Mr. Norton also gave some little testlinent as to the paper.

The case stands adjourned to this foreboon.

SATURDAY, March 29-P.M.

The buoyancy of the Stock market continued o-day, and in the fancies there was a general advance with considerable activity. The sales of Canton were larger han usual and the market advanced to 634. Reading was also active but not firm, the closing price being 5th. The neerings of the miners to demand a further reduction o dersiand the Company have decided to remain firm at the present rates. The Ledger says. It is somewhat difficult to know what the Pottsville agitators are driving at. They appear to be a separate party from the coal opera-tors, who are now doing (and seem, from the in-creasing tunnage, to be content to do) business on the Rallroad. Stontogton was 43), a further advance of $ P cent. Harlem was also steady at 68 2681, with a fai posiness. Erie went to 81, a further advance, but closed a, 804. Norwich was stendy at 614. Portamouth was active and firm at 114 @12. Long Is and improved $ $\psi$ cent. and frm at 11g012 Long Rand Improved ye can-farmers, was better, selling at 634. The better descriptions of Railroad stocks were framer. These Roads are all show-ing a considerable increase over last year. Bank Stocks were in small demand and heavy. Government Stocks were in request and prices show an improving tendency. At the Second Board the market lost some of the firmness of the morning, and some of the fanctes show a decline of bill P cent.

The macket way doll for Exchanges for the Har-mann and rates were a trille casior. Storling was more plenty at 10@10%; France 5.10@5.07%.

Private letters by the Canada are rather more faverable to American Stocks. Baring's Circular says:

The further postponement of the Budget till the 21st inst. keeps trade is a very unsettled state, from the uncertainty that exists with respect to the views of Government relative to customs duties, and we have, to report continued teaching in the produce market, with the exception, however, of Cotton, which has declined fully id $\frac{1}{2}$ it, so material change has taken place in prices. For the principal transactions of the week we refer you to the subjoints details. The demand for Silver for India maintains our quotations of 4s 114 $\frac{1}{2}$ to for folders, has all $\frac{1}{2}$ to 2 for har Silver, and at those rates the last arrival from Mexico, about a militude of collars has all been sold.

The contractors on the Pennsylvania Railroad are now busily engaged in laying the rails on the Central Road, between Johnstown and Lockport, in Westmore land County. It is expected that the cars will be running West as far as Lockport, which is 20 miles oast of Greens-burg, by the let of July next. It is believed that the Road will be completed to within eight riles of Greensburg by the lat of October. The heavy cutting and tunneling a Greensburg will probably prevent the cars from running through from Philadelphia to Pinsburgh before the Spring

The Washington Republic states that a move. ment was on foot some weeks ago in that city, having for its object the issuing and circulating as currency notes of a smaller denomination than one dollar. The plates, it ap. pears, were prepared, but public opinion set so strong against the movement the scheme was abandoned. Since notes, bearing the stamp of the "Potomac Savings Back," an institution which has suddenly sprung into existence, have been put in elementation. In relation to the New Orleans Mint, the Commercial Eulerin gives the following statement, being the substance of a letter from the Treasury Department:

The disposition is manifested by the Department, to do whatever is in its power to relieve the inconvenience arising from the resumficiency of the builton fund to meet promptly the demands of the public. The sum now appiled to the fund of $1,100,000, will not be disaffeished, and there is a probability that it may be increased $150,000 more, making the entire fund $1,250,000. At this present time, this could be readily done, and it may yet be in the ability of the Department to grant this accession for the lime to come, insanuch as a number of built unaking large appropriations, the passage of which was anticipated, have been nipt in the bad by the extrems tennally of scrupulous Senators. But even without these cumulative appropriations, the pressure upon the Treasury for some months to come, will be sufficiently argunt, for we learn from the letter alinded to, that there will be three and a half millions to pay the third instalment of the Mexican indemaity due in the month of May, and three and a quarter millions to the Mexican cisionants, which

In the Treasury, admitting that the current receipts in the meantime will meet the current exception in the standing builton fund of the Philadelphis Mint amounted to six millions of dollars, the Department added two millions more to that fund. The increase has so facilitated the operations of that Mint, that they have very materially diminished there obligations to the public; so that with renowed vigor in the coleage department—their colonage amounting to $250.000 didn's, the Department added two millions more
to that fund. The increase has so facilitated the operations of that Mint, that they have very materially diminished there obligations to the public; so that we cannot complain of any inequality of Treasury favors. A builton fund of $1,000,
